MESSAGE FROM THE CMO & BOARD CHAIR

DEAR FRIEND,

Thank you for your interest in Second Harvest Food Bank. The information presented here is an update on our work, as well as a celebration of all those who made it possible. During this fiscal year, Second Harvest continued to answer the call of those in our community experiencing hunger and food insecurity, due in large part to COVID-19 and new variants. We provided nutritious food including fresh produce to thousands of children and families in our community. We know we could not have weathered this historic time as robustly as we did without the dedication and hard work of our pantry network, food bank team, volunteers, partners, board, and donors. Today, while the economy improves for many, there are nearly 300,000 individuals who continue to rely on us for food each month. Second Harvest will continue providing dignified, equitable and consistent access to nutritious food, creating a future in which no one in Orange County will go hungry.

With gratitude,

OUR PARTNERS IN FEEDING OC

Second Harvest sources and purchases food for distribution to our incredible network of partners who feed the hungry in almost every city in Orange County.

We provided millions of pounds of food to houses of worship, schools, after-school programs, senior centers, homeless shelters, soup kitchens and transitional housing facilities. Our committed partners work with us to provide a critical hand up to all in need and their selfless dedication inspires us every day.

MEETING THE NEED

A GARDEN GROVE FAMILY IN NEED

Many families with young children found it increasingly difficult to make ends meet over the past year due to under-employment in the wake of COVID-19 restrictions. In Garden Grove, the Bañuelos family faced challenging times raising their nine-year-old son and eight-year-old daughter without a consistent income.

Finances were already tight before the pandemic, given the cost of living in California. The parents had to budget carefully just to afford food. During the pandemic, Miguel, the breadwinner, began to lose hours from his job, which in turn affected the rest of the family. There were times when there was no work for him at all. The family had to find a way to get by. Sometimes hard choices had to be made when there was only enough money to either purchase groceries, pay rent, or pay bills.

Seeing their children go hungry took a toll on the parents. As the family struggled to retain independence and provide for themselves, they reluctantly decided they had reached the point where they needed to ask for help. The parents were determined to do whatever it took to put food on the table.

Thankfully, the Bañuelos family discovered Second Harvest which has helped them remain hopeful for their children's future, while relieving the stress of wondering how they would get enough money for groceries. Now the family knows their children will be able to get the nutrition they need on a daily basis. The Bañuelos family has expressed how grateful they are each day for Second Harvest, as well as for the donors who make everything possible.

ENDING POVERTY BY FIRST ENDING HUNGER

As a connected community of 3.2 million people, we must open our eyes to the reality that hunger lives in the shadows of every city in Orange County. But because even the three largest anti-hunger/anti-poverty organizations can only do so much, we formed the Orange County Hunger Alliance that now leverages a unified approach to making a lasting impact.

Our unique alliance will tackle harmful systemic issues by increasing food distribution efficiencies, minimizing food waste and breaking the cycle of intergenerational poverty.

When we succeed in these efforts, Orange County will emerge stronger than ever before, ensuring a promising future for everyone in our county.

"If food insecurity isn't solved, then poverty, housing, social justice, health and education outcomes remain at risk."

-Gregory C. Scott, President & CEO, CAP OC

SERVING THOSE WHO NEED US MOST

CHILDREN

A staggering 48.8%* of OC public schoolchildren rely on free or reduced-price lunch programs. That's why we provide food for more than 65 elementary, middle, high school and community programs across the county.

COLLEGE STUDENTS

Our College Pantry Program partners with 14 local college campuses to provide students with consistent access to nutritious food. This effort is crucial to helping students stay in school, graduate and contribute to the success of Orange County.

SENIORS

1 in 4 OC senior citizens experiences hunger and food insecurity. Our Senior Grocery Program delivers a variety of fresh, perishable items to participating low-income senior apartment complexes and senior centers throughout the county.
